

75th anniversary of concentration camp liberation

Geislingen. On Tuesday, October 15, starting at 7:30 p.m., a meeting will be held at the multigenerational house to prepare a commemorative event for the 75th anniversary of the Geislingen satellite camp. "Everyone is cordially invited to help shape the day," says Matthias Lotz, initiator and pastor of the Baptist congregation in Geislingen. "When planning for a memorial event last year, good ideas came together and it was a wonderful collaboration." People who want to take responsibility in society can participate, says Matthias Lotz.

After current incidents, such as the atrocity in Halle, this is particularly in demand. The commemorative event will take place on April 29, 2020, in the Jahnhalle. A commemorative march is planned afterward. The pastor of the Baptist congregation has already asked Prime Minister Winfried Kretschmann and Israeli Ambassador to Germany Jeremy Issacharoff for the event. The response from both is still pending. Churches, parties and associations were involved in planning the past commemoration events.
by Michael Scheifele translation: Eva Kerner